2. Wiki-based cooperative learning spaces

- WikiLectures

WikiLectures is a project focused on creating and storing medical study materials.

It's being developed for students and teachers of all medical faculties.

It's a part of the project MEFANET – network linking medical schools in the Czech Republic and Slovakia.

Wiki - based project

- enviwiki.cz

Enviwiki is intended to support interdisciplinary environmental education at universities: it provides a space for creating, publishing and sharing scientific texts; it offers methodological support for this.

Teachers and students at lower levels of education can then draw topics and information from the published articles.
